Remarks/Market Observations:		*Based on the team's actual price monitoring last July 22, the supply of marine fishes including local Galunggong remain low due to the nearing lean season and the rainy weather last week (July 15-19) brought about by tropical storm Falcon and tropical depression Goring. Per market vendors, the weather has caused fisherfolk to halt their fishing operations resulting to a low volume catch. However, the supply of marine fishes including local Galunggong (Decapterus macrosoma), local Galunggong "Balsa" (Decapterus macarellus), Tulingan (Auxis rochei), and Eastern little tuna (Euthynus affinis) increased again during the July 26 monitoring due to the fine weather. *The low supply of local Galunggong has caused an increase in the number of brokers/traders that sell frozen/imported Galunggong at the Navotas Fish Port *It was also observed that some brokers/traders at the Navotas Fish Port are making their own supply of frozen local Galunggong. *The supply of Bangus and Tilapia remain stable due to the stable volume of unloading at the Navotas Fish Port. *Some traders/brokers were observed to be selling their supply of small-sized Bangus at a higher price compared to medium and large-sized due to the higher demand for small-sized as compared to the other sizes. *The demand for fishery commodities remain low (i.e., matumal ang bentahan) which might contribute to the relatively lower prices of the top fishery commodities.
