The following observations were gathered during actual price monitoring activity (May 12, 2020): <ol style="list-style-type: none"> Large volume of Bangus, Tilapia, and other fresh marine commodities in the markets due to the large volume unloaded at the Navotas Fish Port after its temporary closure on 9-10 May 2020. However, the demand for fishery commodities in the monitored retail markets remain low. The dominant source areas of bangus, tilapia, and local galunggong at wholesale and retail levels are the following: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Wholesale (Navotas Fish Port) Retail (10 Retail Markets) Bangus Pangasinan Tilapia Batangas Local Galunggong Palawan Navotas Fish Port <ol style="list-style-type: none"> The following observations specific to the supply and demand situation of the three commodities were recorded: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Only Trabajo Market has no supply of medium-sized Bangus. Majority of the available local Galunggong at the monitored retail markets are medium to large in sizes. Medium-sized local Galunggong in the retail markets are sourced from Lucena, Quezon, where the commodity is sold at a higher price due to logistic costs. Medium-sized Imported Galunggong is available only at Mega-Q Market. Large-sized was available at the Trabajo Market. There is a notable increase in operational fish stalls at the Kamuning, Commonwealth, and Munoz Markets as more vendors have re-opened their stalls to generate income. Other remaining markets have low number of vendors caused by "matatun na bentahan," due to the restricting ECQ measures and consumers' lack of financial resources. All markets are compliant to the set Suggested Retail Price (SRP) for bangus and tilapia. However, for local galunggong, only Navotas Market was found to be observing the SRP. (May 15, 2020): <ol style="list-style-type: none"> Monitored markets still has ample supplies of Bangus and Tilapia today. However, the supply of local galunggong and other marine commodities decreased as Typhoon Ambo adversely affected various areas in the country. The supply of marine commodities is expected to decrease further in the coming days. As for demand, there continues to be low influx of buyers in the monitored markets, except at the Farmers Market where there is high foot traffic during market hours (7:00AM - 9:00AM) The dominant source area of bangus, tilapia, and local galunggong remain the same from last week. Medium-sized imported galunggong continues to be available at the Navotas Fish Port; however, at the retail level, only Farmers and Mega-Q Markets have supply of the commodity. Quinta Market also has supply but in large. The following markets were found to have vendors selling their bangus and local galunggong above the maximum allowable limit of the set Suggested Retail Price (SRP): <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Bangus - Quinta Local Galunggong - Trabajo, Quinta, Commonwealth, Tandang Sora, Mega-Q, Farmers, Munoz, Galas Extreme Enhanced Community Quarantine (ECQ) at the Navotas City will be lifted tomorrow, 16 May 2020, and will be changed to Modified ECQ (MECQ) per IATF Resolution No. 35 Series of 2020.
