| Remarks/Market Observations: | The following observations were gathered from market personnel and vendors this week: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Limited volumes of fresh marine commodities were still apparently observed among the monitored retail markets this week. More specifically, for local-fresh galunggong and alumahan, limited volumes of the said commodities were noted this week which might be due to the cold weather condition brought about by the shear line and Northeast monsoon as well as the ongoing implementation of closed fishing season in Northeastern Palawan (Decapterus spp.) and Visayan Sea (Rastrelliger spp. and Sardinella spp.) where it is chiefly sourced.</li> <li>On the other hand, supplies of imported-frozen galunggong lalaki (Decapterus macrosoma) was present the entire week at the monitored retail markets, as it is considered as a substitute commodity to local-fresh variant and way more cheaper making it easier to sell at the markets.</li> <li>Lastly, no changes were recorded in the prevailing prices of bangus and tilapia this week, as supply of the said commodities remain sufficient to cater the demand of the buying public.</li> <li>Top fishery commodities in the eighteen (18) monitored retail markets are sourced mainly from the following areas: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Bangus - Bulacan</li> <li>Tilapia - Batangas</li> <li>Local Galunggong - Malabon Fish Port</li> <li>Alumahan - Malabon Fish Port</li> </ol> </li> <li>As prices of fishery commodities remain higher at retail level, lower demand among buyers and consumer are consistently observed among the monitored retail markets. As a result, vendors continue to sell limited volume and variety of fishery commodities and or closed their fish stall during non-market days (i.e., Monday) to ensure that stocks will be sold at the end of the day and avoid losses.</li> <li>Market administrators continue to strictly implement precautionary safety measures in the monitored markets to ensure the consumers and vendors safety and avoid the further spread of highly infectious COVID-19 OMICRON variant, as the IATF extended the implementation of General-Community Quarantine-Alert Level 3 in Metro Manila from January 16-31, 2022. Among these measures are the mandatory wearing of face masks, social distancing and regular schedule of cleaning and disinfection in the markets, and among others.</li> </ol> |  |                           |                           |                           |                           |                           |                           |                           |                           |                           |                           |                           |                           |                           |                           |                           |                           |                           |                           |                           |           |     |                     |  |
