The following observations were gathered from market personnel and vendors this week:

- Adequate quantity of fresh marine commodities were still observed this week at the monitored retail markets. On the other hand, many of the supplies observed in selected wet markets (i.e., Commonwealth and Muñoz) on March 29, 2022 were stocks from the previous market days hence, noted to have lower quality in terms of freshness. This may have been due to the low influx of buyers in the monitored markets which might be caused by the existing pandemic. For medium-sized local-fresh galunggong lalaki (Decapterus macrosoma), adequate volumes were still noted among the monitored retail markets this week source from Lucena (Quezon), Malabon and Navotas Fish Ports.
- On the other hand, minimal availability of imported-frozen galunggong lalaki (Decapterus macrosoma) was still observed among the monitored retail markets as vendors prefer selling local-fresh variants due to its premium quality having better demand in the market. Other imported-fishery commodities such as hiwas, tulingan and pampano were also recorded among the monitored retail markets this week.
- Meanwhile, ample displays of medium-sized alumahan was observed at Balintawak market on 29 March 2022 sourced from Navotas and Malabon Fish Ports. Meanwhile, only large size of the commodity was recorded at Tandang Sora market at Php320.00-360.00/kg.
- For bangus, sufficient supplies of the commodity continued to be apparent at the monitored retail markets this week. In fact, large-sized commodity was still observed in Tandang Sora market this week at Php180.00/kg to Php220.00/kg sourced from Dagupan and Blucan.
- Lastly, for tilapia, the prevailing retail price of the commodity was sustained at Php120.00/kg this week, as supply and demand remained sufficient to cater the demand of the buying public.
- Top fishery commodities in the eighteen (18) monitored retail markets are sourced mainly from the following areas:
  - Bangus - Bulacan
  - Tilapia - Batangas
  - Local Galunggong -Malabon and Navotas Fish Port
  - Alumahan - Malabon Fish Port and Lucena, Quezon
- Low influx of buyers continues to be apparent among the monitored retail markets this week. As a result, vendors are coping by selling lower volumes and limited varieties of fishery commodities to ensure that all supplies are sold out by the end of the day. Meanwhile, some vendors are opening on an alternate day schedule or during market days (Friday-Sunday) where there are more people in the monitored markets. On the other hand, other vendors, particularly those in Kamuning, Galas, Quinta, and Trabajo Markets, majority of the display were aquaculture commodities (i.e., Bangus and Tilapia) due to its relatively stable wholesale price and demand from consumers.
- Market administrators continue to strictly implement precautionary safety measures in the monitored markets to ensure the consumers and vendors safety and avoid the further spread of highly infectious COVID-19 OMICRON variant, in accordance with the General-Community Quarantine-Alert Level 1 guidelines. Among these measures are the mandatory wearing of face masks, social distancing and regular schedule of cleaning and disinfection in the markets, and among others.
