The following observations were gathered from market personnel and vendors this week:

- Overall, sufficient availability of marine fishery commodities was observed among the monitored retail markets this week. For medium-sized local-fresh galunggong lalaki (Decapterus macrossoma), despite the lifting of Closed Fishing Season (CFS) for galunggong (Decapterus spp.) in Northern Palawan (major fishing ground) on 1 February, supplies remained minimal among the monitored today. Nonetheless, presence of other variants such as "babae" (Decapterus russelli), "burot" (Decapterus kurroides), and "balsa" (Decapterus macarellus), were recorded in some of the monitored markets today.
- Relative to the minimal availability of local galunggong variants, supplies of medium to large-sized imported-frozen galunggong lalaki continued to be apparent in the monitored retail markets. Fish vendors opted to purchase imported galunggong as a substitute commodity whenever there was a minimal quantity of local variants.
- For medium-sized alumahan (Rastrelliger kanagurta), minimal supplies were noted at the time of monitoring today. This might still be influenced by the ongoing implementation of CFS (for sardines, herrings, and mackerel) in Visayan Sea which will last until 15 February. Supplies in retail markets were sourced from Navotas retail markets (from Batangas or Zambales) and Malabon Fish Port.
- For aquaculture commodities (i.e., bangus and tilapia), supplies from major source areas were steady and sufficient for the consuming public. Nonetheless, there is still a Php20-30.00/kg price difference between live and fresh-chilled tilapia.
- Top fishery commodities in the eighteen (18) monitored retail markets are sourced mainly from the following areas:
  - Bangus - Bulacan, Pangasinan
  - Tilapia - Batangas, Pampanga
  - Local Galunggong - Lucena, Navotas & Malabon Fish Ports
  - Alumahan - Navotas, Lucena & Malabon Fish Port
