Remarks/Market Observations:

The following observations were gathered from market personnel:

- Sufficient supplies of fresh marine commodities were still observed at the Navotas Fish Port Complex (wholesale) this week. Consequently, ample unloading of local fresh galunggong lalaki (Decapterus macrosoma) was noted, sourced from Mindoro, Zambales, and Palawan.
- Supply of medium to large-sized imported-frozen galunggong lalaki (D. macrosoma) and babae (D. russelli) remained apparent at the fish port this week, sourced from Vietnam and China.
- The supply of alumahan (Rastrelliger kanagurta) remained unpredictable at the Navotas Fish Port Complex this week, as only one (1) broker unloaded the commodity on March 15, 2024, with an actual wholesale price of Php 220.00/kg, sourced from Bataan.
- Adequate volumes of medium-sized bangus (Chanos chanos) were observed at the fish port this week. Likewise, supplies of medium-sized tilapia (Oreochromis niloticus) continued to be sufficient, chiefly from Batangas and Pampanga.
- Major source areas of the top fishery commodities in the monitored wholesale market are as follows:
 - Bangus - Bulacan
 - Tilapia - Batangas
 - Local Galunggong- Zambales
 - Alumahan- Bataan
 - Imported galunggong - Vietnam, China
