Remarks/Market Observations:			The following observations were gathered from market personnel and vendors this week: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> A sufficient display of mixed-quality supplies from previous market days and freshly unloaded supplies was observed in the monitored retail markets this week. Market vendors mentioned that the demand for fresh marine commodities is gradually returning to normal after the oil spill incident in Limay, Bataan on July 25, 2024. Based on interviews with fish vendors, this incident has also affected the demand for marine fishery commodities in the past few weeks, as buyers and consumers have hesitated to purchase of the said commodities due to potential health risks. Meanwhile, a consistent availability of medium-sized local-fresh galunggong lakaki (Decapterus macrosoma) was observed in the monitored markets, with a recorded prevailing retail price of Php280.00/kg. This price was mostly seen in secondary types of markets, where supplies are more expensive, likely due to added transportation costs and middlemen. Despite this, a supply of medium and large-sized imported frozen galunggong lakaki (D. macrosoma) was noted this week in selected markets, including Commonwealth, Mega-Q, Caloocan, and Polo Markets. This may be attributed to vendors opting to purchase the imported commodity due to its affordable price, which allows them to sell more easily. Similarly, adequate supplies of medium-sized alumahan (Rastrelliger kanagurta) were noted in the monitored retail markets this week. Additionally, the supply of large-sized alumahan remains evident, sourced from Malabon, Farmers, Navotas, and Lucena. The presence of other variants (e.g., hasa-hasa) was also recorded. Meanwhile, adequate availability of aquaculture commodities like bangus (Chanos chanos) and tilapia (Oreochromis niloticus) was observed across all monitored retail markets. Price variations were noted depending on the source areas, product form, and the type of market where the supplies were displayed. Major source areas of the top fishery commodities in the monitored markets are as follows: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> Retail <ol style="list-style-type: none"> Bangus - Bulacan Tilapia - Batangas Local Galunggong - Malabon Fish Port
